CHARLEROI MARKETING CLUB BECOMES REALITY

Organization Effected at Meeting Held on Wednesday

PLANS ARE OUTLINED

Buying Problems to be Studied—Local Club Part of Central Council

Great enthusiasm was shown at the organization meeting of the Charleroi Marketing Club held Wednesday afternoon in the Night Auditorium. About 70 women were present and nearly 50 of these affixed their names to membership cards directly following the meeting. Mrs. John S. Flannery of Pittsburgh who is at the head of the marketing club movement in Western Pennsylvania was present and made a most interesting talk on the subject of intelligent buying, explaining the workings of the marketing club. Organization was effected by the election of Mrs. Charles O. Frye, president; Mrs. J. K. Smith, vice president; Mrs. E. C. Niver, secretary-treasurer.

Standing committees were named, their personnel including many of the leading women of the town. They are as follows:

Sixth street market committee—Mrs. George Woodhall, Mrs. Patrick Connelly, Mrs. Herman A. Heupel, Mrs. Frank L. Crow, Mrs. John Crawford.

Weights and measures—Mrs. C. C. Wright, Mrs. George Leith, Mrs. E. E. Harris.

Hill market committee—Mrs. Richard A. Roberts, Mrs. Thomas Warrensford, Mrs. C. S. VanVoorth, Mrs. F. W. Cunningham, Mrs. Thomas Owens.

Nominating committee—Mrs. E. E. Piper, Mrs. Arthur Miksch, Mrs. Edwin McKay.

Prices Discussed.

Mrs. E. C. Niver was chairman of the meeting as temporary president having been appointed to that position at the first meeting held over a week ago. The nomination committee had prepared a list of names to be voted upon as officers and committee members and they were read by Mrs. E. E. Piper. Upon a vote being taken, those named were elected. Mrs. Niver introduced Mrs. Flannery.

Like on her previous visit here, Mrs. Flannery spoke on the need of co-operation to reduce the high cost of living. She said that if women

Inquiries Numerous

Applications for School Superintendency Expected to Come in Soon

Numerous inquiries have been made about the position of superintendent of the Charleroi schools, a vacancy created by the resignation of Prof. James G. Pentz, who has accepted the position of High School Inspector in this State. Applications are expected to be coming in shortly. The school board will hold a meeting on Friday evening of this week, when the matter will probably come up for serious discussion. However it is not thought a man will be selected at that time. Schools open on September 3 and Prof. Pentz has matters in good shape for the opening.

BUMPS IN ROADS NOT NECESSARY

So Holds Superior Court in Recent Decision on Matter

MUST BE KEPT IN SHAPE

Every township in Pennsylvania that continues to afflict the traveling public with that relic of less enlightened days known as the water break or "thank-you-ma'am" is laying itself open to the payment of heavy damages. Competent authorities in road building have long since decided that water breaks are absolutely unnecessary on a properly constructed road and now the Superior Court of Pennsylvania has ruled that townships are liable not only for the damage but for the inconvenience caused by these useless things.

The Pennsylvania Motor Federation is urging friends of good roads everywhere throughout the State to direct the attention of supervisors and other township officials to this decision of the Superior Court. It was rendered in the case of Leshner versus Lemon township, Wyoming county. The plaintiff was thrown from his vehicle by reason of the excessive height of a water break and the imposition of a substantial bill of damages on the taxpayers of the township was sustained by the higher tribunal. Not only that, but the Superior Court goes even farther than the county court, saying:

"The trial judge did not go even as far as the act of Assembly would have authorized him to go in ruling on the points to the answers to which

MONONGAHELA NOW THIRD CLASS CITY

All But Final Act of Governor in Signing Charter Done—Select and Common Council Pass Upon the Matter

Events transpiring in their anticipated order, Monongahela will by the middle of next week be a third class city, officially and otherwise. Papers have been sent to the State officials at Harrisburg and all that now is needed is the signature of Gov. J. K. Tener and the great seal of the state before the city can be enrolled in its proper classification.

Without one dissenting vote, the common and select councils of Monongahela at sessions held in the city hall Tuesday evening, passed the ordinance which surrenders the old special law by which they were incorporated as a city, and which was passed in 1873, and adopted the provisions of the charter of a city of the third class. The resolution was signed Wednesday by Mayor L. C. Isler, and the papers sent on their way to Harrisburg.

GREENE ANGERED BY THE VERDICT

Accused Man Lodged in Jail to Await Action on Death of Cecelia Funka

George Greene the Manifold miner held by the coroner's jury for the murder of Cecelia Funka on August 2 on the road between Washington and Manifold did not learn until Wednesday of the verdict of the jury. Jail officials informed the accused man of the finding of the jury.

Greene at once showed much temper and expressed himself in violent terms regarding the whole proceeding. He did not offer to make any statement further than the testimony he gave when before the coroner's jury, his comment being centered on what he termed the unjust character of the jury's finding. The man is being kept under careful guard in the jail.

Mrs. Greene visited the jail and in the presence of Sheriff R. G. Lutton had a few minutes' conversation with her accused husband. The entire time was occupied by Greene in telling his wife what she should do with things about home. He advised her to sell off the chickens and pigs and for the present at least to go to her mother's home to reside.

IS CHARGED WITH TAKING MONEY FROM POCKET OF FRIEND

Seeming envy of Andy Kovolchak's prosperity came hard to Mike Meno, who today was lodged in jail at Washington to await action of the grand jury on the charge of larceny. Meno's alleged crime is extracting $30 from the pocket of Kovolchak's trousers, when the said Kovolchak was at work. Information was made before Justice of the Peace Wheeler and the preliminary hearing was held Wednesday. It is thought Meno will enter a guilt plea before the court.

QUIETLY MARRIED AT WILKINSBURG

Miss Blanche Geho of North Charleroi Becomes the Bride of James B. Small

Stealing a march on their friends Miss Blanche Geho of North Charleroi and James Bingham Small, of Charleroi were quietly married at the parsonage of the Wilkinsburg Christian church Wednesday evening. They left later in the evening for Conneaut Lake, where they will spend about two weeks. Upon their return they will likely take up their residence in Charleroi.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Geho of North Charleroi and a well known and much esteemed young woman. Mr. Small is the son of Stephen Small of Fallowfield avenue. He is employed as assistant paymaster at the American Window Glass company's plant at Belle Vernon.

USED ICE TO MOLD BRIDGE

Unique Scheme Put Into Use by Bridge Builders in Canada Says Capt. Robbins

In an interview with C. B. Copeland of Charleroi, an employee on the United States Steamer Slackwater, Capt. Joseph Robbins of the Steamer Charles Clark, declared that the putting in place of the span of the Monongahela Railroad bridge at New Geneva by the aid of barges was not the first experiment of the kind. Capt. Robbins cites as an example a certain piece of bridge building in Canada, where the experiment was tried successfully. When it came to putting the middle span in place it was found to be two inches too long. Engineers lost sleep over the problem and finally came to the conclusion to try to contract the middle span sufficiently by piling ice on it. The scheme was tried and the contraction was such that the span slid into place. Capt. Robbins tells the story for a fact.

Surviving Members of Ringgold Battalion to Congregate at Bealsville

Marking the fiftieth anniversary of the date when the greater part of the Battalion left for the front the thirty-ninth annual reunion of the Ringgold Cavalry will be held at Bealsville on Thursday, August 29. Arrangements are now being completed by local committees for the event. David M. Snyder of Bealsville is the president of the reunion association. The battalion was recruited at Bealsville in the early part of the Civil war. Survivors are becoming fewer and fewer every year, so that this year's events will bring together a smaller number of veterans than any reunion previous.

HOLDING OUTING AT PARK

Elks Entertaining in Lavish Style at Eldora Today

OX ROAST A FEATURE

Charleroi Lodge No. 494, B. P. O. Elks are entertaining in lavish style at Eldora Park today where their annual picnic and outing is being held. Early this morning crowds were trooping to the park, but this afternoon people were coming from everywhere along the Monongahela valley attracted by the entertainment offered.

The Charleroi Italian band, resplendent in their new uniforms gave a preliminary concert on the streets here this morning, and then were taken by trolley car to Roscoe Monongahela and Donora, giving concerts at each place. They went to the park, where they will give concerts during the afternoon and evening.

The big ox brought from Greene county Wednesday was roasted and ready for cutting into sandwiches this morning at 10 o'clock. Events are occurring this afternoon in their programmed order. Vaudeville is an attraction. A boxing tournament and various contests will feature.

Judge McIlvaine Imposes Fine on Violator With No Defense

SOLD BOOZE ILLEGALLY

Conducted Drug a Store in Washington—Bill Ignored in Roller Skating Case

When the case of John D. Plymire of Washington, charged with selling liquor illegally, came before the grand jury at Washington Wednesday, John, on the advice of his attorney, entered a plea of nolo contendere. This, in common every day English, stripped of its legal mysticism, means "no defense." In other words, John pleaded guilty to the charge of selling booze to the thirsty in the dry town of Washington. Then his attorney put in a plea to the court for leniency. He stated that his client had lately purchased the City Drug Store in Washington, and was evidently inspired with the idea of accumulating wealth by Get-Rich-Quick-Wallington methods. This argument was no go with Judge J. A. McIlvaine, who intimated that the self-confessed law breaker was old enough and intelligent enough to know what he was about. Consequently the court administered the usual dose given to first offenders—a fine of $600 and costs and four months and ten days imprisonment in the county jail. In addition to violating the license laws Plymire had sold to people of intemperate habits and on Sundays. That was why he got more than the customary $500, costs and three months in jail. Very properly, the grand jury ignored the case against Rev. H. C. Millington of the Bealsville M. E. church, who was charged with assaulting a small boy. The lad persisted in roller skating on the pavement in front of the pastor's home, and when he would not cease the militant pastor forcibly abated the nuisance.

Frank Dzwirny pleaded guilty to a crime against morality and was fined $1 and costs.

Other cases against which true bills were found were: Selling liquor without license, Joe Molinski; felonious assault and battery, Tony Panceroff, Scornifona Domelik; carrying concealed weapons, Albert Filberta, John Sequinis; assault, M. Miller, alias J. R. Miller; inciting a riot, Roy Wilkinson, C. C. Wilkinson and Whitfield Wilkinson; aggravated assault and battery, William Stonys; murder, John Harbaugh; forcible entry, John Ludy; perjury, Weronica Colurk.

Bills ignored were: Assault and battery, H. C. Millington, Mike Moraney; selling liquor without license, M. Storra and Mrs. M. Storra.

A GREAT RECORD.

One of the most manly as well as logical defenses of President Taft's administration was made by Attorney General George W. Wickersham, at the Chautauqua, N. Y., Assembly Wednesday. In a discussion ranging from the platform on which President Taft was elected to the tariff, the Attorney General summed up the achievements of the administration in the following brief but comprehensive terms:

President Taft has enforced the laws, civil and criminal, without discrimination and without fear. The indictments of the members of the so-called wire pools for violation of the anti-trust law embraced some 50 men, most of whom were prominent in business life, some of them personal friends of the President. The indictment of "Dan" Hanna and other individuals and corporations in Northern Ohio, for taking railway rebates, brought upon the President the bitterest hostility of powerful business and financial interests, and resulted in giving to Mr. Roosevelt effective aid in his primary campaign in Ohio.

The prosecution of the great United States Steel Corporation as an illegal monopoly, came as a surprise to the financial world, because they,
in their arrogance, had assumed that no administration would lift a hand against that powerful combination.
The indictment of the beef packers in Chicago under this administration was not rendered abortive, as was that obtained under Mr. Roosevelt by the use of information obtained for the purpose of confidential statistical investigation, and then diverted to the purpose of criminal prosecution.
No previous administration has ever had such a record for vigorous proceedings against the trusts and unlawful combinations. But for the wide-spread dissatisfaction that prevails, due to a sudden realization of the people that they have been living too high and fast, President Taft's administration would have figured as one of the most progressive and radical in the interests of the people. As a matter of fact it is all of that, and it is doubtful if any other executive could have gone further in this direction at this particular time than President Taft.

BUYING BY WEIGHT.

Now that Charleroi has a regularly organized Marketing Club, the thing to do is to use the organization toward the betterment of the members and the community in general.
One of Mrs. J. S. Flannery's suggestions is that the clubs work for legislation providing a system of weights instead of dry measure is a good one. This, as well as a State law compelling the printing of exact weights on all food packages forms a definite basis for concerted action while the club members are individually looking after their own interests.

This should be an easy matter with a member of the Assembly from our own town. The club can appoint a committee to draft such a measure, and then invite the co-operation of Hon. William Feeney, who will no doubt be glad of the opportunity to champion a measure that will help people, particularly the working classes. With this object in view it will be a valuable acquisition to have Mr. Feeney in the legislature, as he is personally interested as well as the rest of his neighbors. This is a splendid opportunity to help the whole community while working for the individual welfare of each other.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Steve Evans, the St. Louis Na-a fan who sat in the same box at the Cardinals' park every day and devoted most of his time to roasting connection with Evans were "bone-loudly claimed that Steve had no playing in St. Louis some one knocked up a high foul which landed in this orator's box. He saw it coming tried to dodge, used poor judgment and realizing that the ball was going to strike him, snatched his hat off and took it full on an immodestly bald head. Steve Evans was waiting to go to the bat. He shifted his chew to the other cheek and exclaimed in a voice that could not have been heard more than two blocks away:

"That's the 'gink' who has been calling me a 'bonehead.'"

Steve got a great laugh from the club lost a patron for the baldheaded and his obituary has not been printed yet either.

"I have been all over the world.
Just got back from the specific tourist to a friend the other day.

"You mean the Pacific Slope?"

"That's it. It's a wonderful place but the greatest thing there is the climate. I saw a tomato there that took one family a week to eat it."

"It must have been immense. What

"The climate."

"My uncle built a skyscraper last said the other.

"Why, you are foolish. How would they ever get to the top floors?"

"Climb it."

ERRORS OF SPEECH.

Common Abuse of the Verbs to Get, to Lay and to Lie.

The verb to get is one of our much misused words. It means to acquire, win, obtain, and primarily it signifies the putting forth of effort to attain something. Consequently it is not only superfluous, but incorrect, to speak of a man as "getting drowned" or "getting sick," and you may unfortunately
"have a cold," but it is impossible that you "have got a cold."

At this moment no exceptions occur to the writer to the rule that got should never be used in connection with have,
which alone sufficiently expresses possession. Say "I have the picture," not
"I have got the picture." "The dog has a broken leg," not "The dog has got a broken leg."

The incorrect verbs lay and lie are frequently confounded. Lay is an active or transitive verb, and lie is passive or intransitive. We lay things down or have laid them down, but we and things lie at rest. You lie down, have lain down, will lie down or are lying down. She lay down yesterday and is going to lie down this afternoon.
A frequent error is to confound the past tense of these verbs. One should say, "Mary laid the book on the table and lay down herself," but the book lies on the table. Exchange

BAD FOR THE STOMACH.

When Non-fatty Foods Are Intimately
Mixed With Grease.

The stomach never has the least power of digesting fat. This is disposed of in the most gross manner. When enter in the ordinary forms, as fat meat, butter, etc., the fat separates out in the stomach and does not in the least interfere with the work of the gastric juice on the other food, but when a non-fatty food has been intimately mixed with grease the latter prevents the gastric juice getting at the food it could digest.

Fish fried in oil or butter is by no means the most marked example, as the fat does not penetrate very deeply between the muscle and the fat. Potatoes fried with butter and mixed vegetables fried with butter are bad offenders. The reason advanced explains why pork is difficult to digest. The muscular fibers are mixed up with fat cells, and by the absorption of the oil in each tiny cell the entire pork is made into an oily paste.

A very strong stomach will do the work required, but it is not a fair task to impose frequently, and a weak stomach will refuse to do anything beyond rounding its owner by a few slabs that it will not stand such a treatment.

Old Fashioned Remedies.

Science in surgery and electricity has advanced much in the past thirty years, but the treatment of disease by the old fashioned remedies made from roots and herbs, has never been improved upon.

This may be seen by the great success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs and known today as the great remedy for female ills.

No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine.

would do more intelligent buying and make a united effort they could succeed in keeping prices down. She spoke of the farmer and besought the women to use their influence to have him grow potatoes and other staples in quantity, so that they could buy direct and not have to buy them after from three to six or a dozen handlings, each handling causing an increase in price. Speaking of the groceries, she told the women to buy as largely as possible by weight and to be sure they got to the ounce what they were paying for.

Cheating Made Easy.

"Carry things home yourself," said Mrs. Flannery. Don't telephone to the store, and have wagon draw up in front of your house. All that costs money, and you and I have to pay for it. We have made it easy for dishonest storekeepers to cheat us and they are cheating us.
But remember, the man you are buying of is more afraid of you than you are of him. Every woman should make herself a market woman. Aim to find out how to buy and where to buy. Receive bids if necessary as an organization on potatoes and such like. Watch the prices in the Pittsburg papers, and

Object of Clubs.

Mrs. Flannery answered questions regarding points not fully understood explaining further the marketing club movement. The local club is to be made a part of a State organization to be formed. When sufficient clubs are organized a central council will be formed, with two representatives from each club as authorized delegates. The president, Mrs. C. O. Frye, and Mrs. E.
C. Niver who were elected by a standing vote will constitute the Charleroi representatives. The purpose of the central council will be to better organize the clubs, and to enable the women to better study market affairs.

Charles O. Frye, who with three or four others was instrumental in getting the curb market on a working basis made a short talk. He explained as he understood them the duties of the various committees.
Just at present their duties will mostly consist of investigation.

"Cost of High Living."

There was a sentiment throughout the meeting that it was not the high cost of living alone that was bothering the people, but the cost of high living. Mrs. Flannery made this plain in speaking of the kind of dresses and hats women buy and wear today, simply, she said, because the modistes tell them to. One of the plans of the central council will probably be to campaign against the present outrageous and costly fashions. Chief of its plans will be to help along proper protective legislation. Mrs. Flannery spoke in favor of having household staples purchasable by weight only, instead of partly by measure and it is understood that some legislation will be proposed along this line. Another bit of legislation proposed it to have every package of crackers and the like have the weight printed on it.

exception was taken, having confined the attention of the jury to the dangerous condition of the road, as occasioned by the obstruction placed therein by direction of the supervisors and leaving out of view entirely its convenience. In the construction and repair of public roads, particularly in view of the increased rapidity of travel upon them, it is important for the supervisors to keep in mind convenience as well as safety in the construction and repair of these avenues of public travel."

As the cost of failure to comply with the law in respect to safe and convenient highways must fall eventually on the farmers and other taxpayers of the townships, it is expected that a few more damage awards in accordance with this latest interpretation of the law by the Superior Court will tend to bring the "thank-ye-ma'm" into general disuse as a substitute for a properly arched roadway, which is the cheapest and best in the long run.

COAL VALLEY IS SCHEDULED

Charleroi Independents Will Play Strong Team at Home Saturday.

As their opponents on Saturday the Charleroi Independents baseball team will have the strong Coal Valley club. Coal Valley has been winning regularly from some of the strongest teams in the Independent Association, and will prove a fit match for the local outfit. McIlvaine, Ryan of Keifer will do the twirling for Charleroi and Guder will receive. Smith will pitch for Coal Valley and Gordon do the catching. The game will be called promptly at 3:30.

POSTPONED GAME AGAIN IN LOCAL CHURCH LEAGUE

It looks now as though there were not going to be any games in the church league at all this week. Monday's and Tuesday's games were not played off, although the latter was forfeited and one postponed from a former date to be played off between the Christians and the Methodists Wednesday evening was again postponed. Neither the Christians nor the Methodists had enough men on the field. Today's game has been postponed because of the Elks' picnic. That will leave only Friday, when it is hoped to get twofull teams together.

MISSION SOCIETY

HAS INTERESTING MEETING THIS WEEK

The C. W. B. M. Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. T. M. Faddis Tuesday evening. A very interesting program was rendered. The topic for discussion was Liberia. Roll call response consisted of some facts about Liberia. Mrs. Minton Shippe told of "Aunt Lizzie's Christmas Dime" for the support of Jacob Kennedy.

A mission study on Hinduism was conducted by Mrs. T. M. Faddis. Mrs. E. S. Stanley a former missionary in the Congo Free State told interesting things about the people and their religion. Miss Diamond of Canada gave a talk on Bible study in the school in Ireland.

Mrs. C. M. Allen of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church took part in the mission study discussion. Temperance work was ably discussed by Mrs. Emma Dawson.

Mrs. J. K. Mitchell, Mrs. Mary Moffitt and Mrs. Faddis entertained contesting divisions, a silver offering being equally divided between the two sides. Much interest was taken in the program and a real missionary spirit was displayed.

Officials Bar Paddle Wheels.

County officials descended Tuesday night upon a carnival now holding forth at West Monongahela and put the ban on all gambling devices. Consequently the paddle wheels and other devices whereby easy marks were separated from their money have ceased to do business. It is not stated whether or not the "girl shows" were closed up, which are said to have contained considerable "ginger" at the start.

Great enthusiasm was shown at the organization meeting of the Charleroi Marketing Club held Wednesday afternoon in the Night Auditorium. About 70 women were present and nearly 50 of these affixed their names to membership cards directly following the meeting. Mrs. John S. Flannery of Pittsburgh who is at the head of the marketing club movement in Western Pennsylvania was present and made a most interesting talk on the subject of intelligent buying, explaining the workings of the marketing club. Organization was effected by the election of Mrs. Charles O. Frye, president; Mrs. J. K. Smith, vice president; Mrs. E. C. Niver, secretary-treasurer.

Standing committees were named, their personnel including many of the leading women of the town. They are as follows:

Sixth street market committee—Mrs. George Woodhall, Mrs. Patrick Connolly, Mrs. Herman A. Heupel, Mrs. Frank L. Crow, Mrs. John Crawford.

Weights and measures—Mrs. C. C. Wright, Mrs. George Leitz, Mrs. E. E. Harris.

Hill market committee—Mrs. Richard A. Roberts, Mrs. Thomas Warrenford, Mrs. C. S. VanVoorhis, Mrs. F. W. Cunningham, Mrs. Thomas Owens.

Nominating committee—Mrs. E. E. Piper, Mrs. Arthur Miksch, Mrs. Edwin McKay.

Prices Discussed.

Mrs. E. C. Niver was chairman of the meeting as temporary president having been appointed to that position at the first meeting held over a week ago. The nomination committee had prepared a list of names to be voted upon as officers and committeewomen and they were read by Mrs. E. E. Piper. Upon a vote being taken, those named were elected. Mrs. Niver introduced Mrs. Flannery.

Like on her previous visit here, Mrs. Flannery spoke on the need of co-operation to reduce the high cost of living. She said that if women

Numerous inquiries have been made about the position of superintendent of the Charleroi schools, a vacancy created by the resignation of Prof. James G. Pentz, who has accepted the position of High School Inspector in this State. Applications are expected to be coming in shortly. The school board will hold a meeting on Friday evening of this week, when the matter will probably come up for serious discussion. However it is not thought a man will be selected at that time. Schools open on September 3 and Prof. Pentz has matters in good shape for the opening.

Every township in Pennsylvania that continues to afflict the traveling public with that relic of less enlightened days known as the water break or "thank-ye-ma'am" is laying itself open to the payment of heavy damages. Competent authorities in road building have long since decided that water breaks are absolutely unnecessary on a properly constructed road and now the Superior Court of Pennsylvania has ruled that townships are liable not only for the damage but for the inconvenience caused by these useless things.

The Pennsylvania Motor Federation is urging friends of good roads everywhere throughout the State to direct the attention of supervisors and other township officials to this decision of the Superior Court. It was rendered in the case of Lesh versus Lemon township, Wyoming county. The plaintiff was thrown from his vehicle by reason of the excessive height of a water break and the imposition of a substantial bill of damages on the taxpayers of the township was sustained by the higher tribunal. Not only that, but the Superior Court goes even farther than the county court, saying:

"The trial judge did not go even as far as the act of Assembly would have authorized him to go in ruling on the points to the answers to which

Events transpiring in their anticipated order, Monongahela will by the middle of next week be a third class city, officially and otherwise. Papers have been sent to the State by the board of directors and now is needed is the signature of Gov. J. K. Tener and the great seal of the state before the city can be enrolled in its proper classification. Without one dissenting vote, the common and select councils of Monongahela at sessions held in the city hall Tuesday evening, passed the ordinance which surrenders the old special law by which they were incorporated as a city, and which was passed in 1873, and adopted the provisions of the charter of a city of the third class. The resolution was signed Wednesday by Mayor L. C. Isler, and the papers sent on their way to Harrisburg. Monongahela is smaller than Charleroi and with a population of 7,598. However it had been incorporated as a city. To change back to the borough would be an expensive operation and would entail no end of trouble. The third class city charter therefore was considered the only practical charter for the city to have replacing the old one in effect for 38 years. There will be practically no change in government.

Accused Man Lodged in Jail to Await Action on Death of Cecelia Funke

George Greene the Manifold miner held by the coroner's jury for the murder of Cecelia Funke on August 2 on the road between Washington and Manifold did not learn until Wednesday of the verdict of the jury. Jail officials informed the accused man of the finding of the jury.

Greene at once showed much temper and expressed himself in violent terms regarding the whole proceeding. He did not offer to make any statement further than the testimony he gave when before the coroner's jury, his comment being centered on what he termed the unjust character of the jury's finding. The man is being kept under careful guard in the jail.

Mrs. Greene visited the jail and in the presence of Sheriff R. G. Luton had a few minutes' conversation with her accused husband. The entire time was occupied by Greene in telling his wife what she should do with things about home. He advised her to sell off the chickens and pigs and for the present at least to go to her mother's home to reside.

Seeming envy of Andy Kovolchak's prosperity came hard to Mike Meno who today was lodged in jail at Washington to await action of the grand jury on the charge of larceny. Meno's alleged crime is extracting $30 from the pocket of Kovolchak's trousers, when the said Kovolchak was at work. Information was made before Justice of the Peace Wheeler and the preliminary hearing was held Wednesday. It is thought Meno will enter a guilt plea before the court.

Stealing a march on their friends Miss Blanche Geho of North Charleroi and James Bingham Small, of Charleroi were quietly married at the parsonage of the Wilkinsburg Christian church Wednesday evening. They left later in the evening for Conneaut Lake, where they will spend about two weeks. Upon their return they will likely take up their residence in Charleroi.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Geho of North Charleroi and a well known and much esteemed young woman. Mr. Small is the son of Stephen Small of Fallowfield avenue. He is employed as assistant paymaster at the American Window Glass company's plant at Belle Vernon.

In an interview with C. B. Copeland of Charleroi, an employee on the United States Steamer Slackwater, Capt. Joseph Robbins of the Steamer Charles Clark, declared that the putting in place of the span of the Monongahela Railroad bridge at New Geneva by the aid of barges was not the first experiment of the kind. Capt. Robbins cites as an example a certain piece of bridge building in Canada, where the experiment was tried successfully. When it came to putting the middle span in place it was found to be two inches too long. Engineers lost sleep over the problem and finally came to the conclusion to try to contract the middle span sufficiently by piling ice on it. The scheme was tried and the contraction was such that the span slid into place. Capt. Robbins tells the story for a fact.

Marking the fiftieth anniversary of the date when the greater part of the battalion left for the front in the thirty-ninth annual reunion of the Ringgold Cavalry will be held at Beasville on Thursday, August 29. Arrangements are now being completed by local committees for the event. David M. Snyder of Beasville is the president of the reunion association. The battalion was recruited at Beasville in the early part of the Civil war. Survivors are becoming fewer and fewer every year, so that this year's events will bring together a smaller number of veterans than any reunion previous.

Charleroi Lodge No. 494, B. P. O. Elks are entertaining in lavish style at Eldora Park today where their annual picnic and outing is being held. Early this morning crowds were trooping to the park, but this afternoon people were coming from everywhere along the Monongahela valley attracted by the entertainment offered.

The Charleroi Italian band, resplendent in their new uniforms gave a preliminary concert on the streets here this morning, and then were taken by trolley car to Roscoe Monongahela and Donora, giving concerts at each place. They went to the park, where they will give concerts during the afternoon and evening. The big ox brought from Greene county Wednesday was roasted and ready for cutting into sandwiches this morning at 10 o'clock. Events are occurring this afternoon in their programmed order. Vaudeville is an attraction. A boxing tournament and various contests will feature.

When the case of John D. Plymire of Washington, charged with selling liquor illegally, came before the grand jury at Washington Wednesday, John, on the advice of his attorney, entered a plea of nolo contendere. This, in common every day English, stripped of its legal mysticism, means "no defense." In other words, John pleaded guilty to the charge of selling booze to the thirsty in the dry town of Washington. Then his attorney put in a plea to the court for leniency. He stated that his client had lately purchased the City Drug Store in Washington, and was evidently inspired with the idea of accumulating wealth by Get-Rich-Quick-Wallfingford methods. This argument was no go with Judge J. A. McIlvaine, who intimated that the self-confessed law breaker was not enough intelligent enough to know what he was about. Consequently the court administered the usual dose given to first offenders—a fine of $600 and costs and four months and ten days imprisonment in the county jail. In addition to violating the license laws Plymire had sold to people of intemperate habits and on Sundays. That was why he got more than the customary $500, costs and three months in jail. Very properly, the grand jury ignored the case against Rev. H. C. Millington of the Beasville M. E. church, who was charged with assaulting a small boy. The lad persisted in roller skating on the pavement in front of the pastor's home, and when he would not cease the militant pastor forcibly abated the nuisance.

Frank Dzwirz pleaded guilty to a crime against morality and was fined $1 and costs.

Other cases against which three bills were found were: Selling liquor without license, Joe Molinard; felonious assault and battery, Tony Panceroff, Scordimona Domelick; carrying concealed weapons, Albert Filberta, John Sequins; assault, M. Miller, alias J. R. Miller; inciting a riot, Roy Wilkinson, C. C. Wilkinson and Whitfield Wilkinson; aggravated assault and battery, William Stonys; murder, John Harbaugh; forcible entry, John Ludy; perjury, Veronica Colarik.

Bills ignored were: Assault and battery, H. C. Millington, Mike Moraney; selling liquor without license, M. Storra and Mrs. M. Storra.

A GREAT RECORD.

One of the most manly as well as
logical defenses of President Taft's administration was made by Attorney General George W. Wickersham,
at the Chautauqua, N. Y., Assembly
Wednesday. In a discussion rang-
tariff, the Attorney General summed
up the achievements of the admin-
comprehensive terms:

laws, civil and criminal, without discrimination and without fear. The indictments of the members of the
so-called wire pools for violation of
men, most of whom were prominent
sonal friends of the President. The
individuals and corporations in Northern Ohio, for taking railroad rebates, brought upon the President
the bitterest hostility of powerful
business and financial interests, and
resulted in giving to Mr. Roosevelt
effective aid in his primary campaign
in Ohio.

The prosecution of the great United States Steel Corporation as an illegal monopoly, came as a surprise
to the financial world, because they,
no administration would lift a hand
against that powerful combination.
The indictment of the beef packers

the purpose of criminal prosecution.
No previous administration has
unlawful combinations. But for the
ceded the sudden realization of pre-

the people that they have been living too high and fast, President Taft's administration would have
figured as one of the most progressive and radical in the interests of
further in this direction at this particular time than President Taft.

BUYING BY WEIGHT.

Now that Charleroi has a regularly organized Marketing Club, the thing to do it to use the organization toward the betterment of the members and the community in general.
One of Mrs. J. S. Flannery's suggestions is that the clubs work for legislation providing a system of weights instead of dry measure is a good one. This, as well as a State law compelling the printing of
action while the club members are individually looking after their own interests.

This should be an easy matter
appoint a committee to draft such a measure, and then invite the co-operation of Hon. William Feeney, who
will no doubt be glad of the oppor-
will help people, particularly the
working classes. With this object in view it will be a valuable acquisition to have Mr. Feeney in the legislature, as he is personally interested as well as the rest of his neighbors. This is a splendid opportunity to help the whole community
welfare of each other.

heard more than two blocks away:
"That's the 'gink' who has been
calling me a 'bonehead'."

Steve got a great laugh from the crowd, but right there the St. Louis club lost a patron for the baldheaded one has never been seen at the grounds since, according to Evans and his obituary has not been printed
yet either.

"I have been all over the world, Just got back from the Pacific slope," said a returned Pittsburgh tourist to a friend the other day.

"You mean the Pacific Slope."

"That's it. It's a wonderful place
but the greatest thing there is the
took one family a week to eat it."

"It must have been immense. What did it?"

"The climate."

"My uncle built a skyscraper last summer, 75 stories high. He built it without elevators or stairway."

"Why, you are foolish. How would

"Climb it."

Common Abuse of the Verbs to Get, to Lay and to Lie.

The verb to get is one of our most misused words. It means to acquire,
a man as "getting drowned" or "getting sick," and you may unfortunately

to the writer to the rule that got should never be used in connection with have,
which alone sufficiently expresses possession. Say "I have the picture," not
"I have got the picture." "The dog
has a broken leg," not "The dog has
got a broken leg."

The intransitive verbs lay and lie are frequently confounded. Lay is an active or transitive verb, and lie is passive or intransitive. We lay things down, but we lie down. Lay is an active verb, and lie is a passive verb.
We lay down, but we lie down. Lay is an active verb, and lie is a passive verb. We lay things down, but we lie down. Lay is an active verb, and lie is a passive verb. We lay things down, but we lie down.

A frequent error is to confound the past tenses of these verbs. One should say, "Mary laid the book on the table
lies on the table.—Exchange.

BAD FOR THE STOMACH.

Mixed With Grease.

The stomach never has the least power of digesting true fat. This is disposed of in the intestines. When eaten in the ordinary form, as fat meat, butter, etc., the fat separates out in
juice on the other food, but when a
non-fatty food has been intimately mixed with grease the latter prevents the
gastric juice getting at the food it could digest.

Fish fried in oil or butter is by no means the most marked example, as
the fat does not penetrate very deeply.
Potatoes mashed with butter are either worse, and minced vegetables fried with butter are bad offenders. The reason advanced explains why pork is difficult of digestion. The muscular fibers are mixed up with fat cells, and by the liberation of the oil in each tiny cell the eaten pork is made into an oily paste.

A very strong stomach will do the
work required, but it is not a fair task
to impose frequently, and a weak stomach will refuse to do anything beyond reminding its owner by a few stabs that it will not stand such treatment.

Old Fashioned Remedies.

has advanced much in the past thirty
improved upon.

This may be seen by the great success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and
herbs and known today as the great remedy for female ills.

No sick women does justice to herself who will not try this famous
medicine.

make a united effort they could suc-
him grow potatoes and other staples
in quantity, so that they could buy
direct and not have to buy them after
lings, each handling causing an increase in price. Speaking of the
as largely as possible by weight and
to be sure they got to the ounce
what they were paying for.

Cheating Made Easy.

"Carry things home yourself,"
said Mrs. Flannery. Don't telephone to the store, and have wagons draw up in front of your house. All that costs money, and you and I have to pay for it. We have made
to cheat us and they are cheating us.
But remember, the man you are buy-
you are of him. Every woman
should make herself a market wo-
man. Aim to find out how to buy and where to buy. Receive bids if
tatoes and such like. Watch the prices in the Pittsburgh papers. And

Object of Clubs.

Mrs. Flannery answered questions
regarding points not fully understood explaining further the marketing club movement. The local club
is to be made a part of a State organization to be formed. When
sufficient clubs are organized a central council will be formed, with
two representatives from each club
as authorized delegates. The president, Mrs. C. O. Frye, and Mrs. E.
C. Niver who were elected by a standing vote will constitute the Charleroi representatives. The pur-
able the women to better study market affairs.

Charles O. Rye, who with three or four others was instrumental in getting the curb market on a working basis made a short talk. He ex-
duties of the various committees.
Just at present their duties will
mostly consist of investigation.

There was a sentiment throughout
cost of living alone that was bothering the people, but the cost of high
wear today, simply, she said, because
the modistes tell them to. One of the plans of the central council will
present outrageous and costly fashions. Chief of its plans will be to help along proper protective legislation. Mrs. Flannery spoke in favor of having household staples
purchasable by weight only, instead
of partly by measure and it is understood that some legislation will be
like have the weight printed on it.

Officials Bar Paddle Wheels. County officials descended Tuesday night upon a carnival now holding forth at West Monongahela and put the ban on all gambling devices. Consequently the paddle wheels and other devices whereby easy marks were separated from their money have ceased to do business. It is not stated whether or not the "girl shows" were closed up, which are said to have contained considerable "ginger" at the start.

Assessors Begins Work. John L. Reeves, assessor for the borough of Charleroi has started his work of making the triennial assessment. It will take until some time in December to finish the work.

It looks now as though there were not going to be any games in the church league at all this week. Monday's and Tuesday's games were not played off, although the latter was forfeited and one postponed from a former date to be played off between the Christians and the Methodists Wednesday evening was again postponed. Neither the Christians nor the Methodists had enough men on the field. Today's game has been postponed because of the Elks' picnic. That will leave only Friday, when it is hoped to get two full teams together.

MISSION SOCIETY HAS INTERESTING MEETING THIS WEEK

The C. W. B. M. Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. T. M. Faddis Tuesday evening. A very interesting program was rendered. The topic for discussion was Liberia. Roll call response consisted of some facts about Liberia. Mrs. Minton Shippe told of "Aunt Lizzie's Christmas Dime" for the support of Jacob Kennedy.

A mission study on Hinduism was conducted by Mrs. T. M. Faddis. Mrs. E. S. Stanley a former missionary in the Congo Free State told interesting things about the people and their religion. Miss Diamond of Canada gave a talk on Bible study in the school in Ireland.

Mrs. C. M. Allen of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church took part in the mission study discussion.

Temperance work was discussed by Mrs. Emma Dawson. Mrs. J. K. Mitchell, Mrs. Mary Moffitt and Mrs. Faddis entertained contesting divisions, a silver offering being equally divided between the two sides. Much interest was taken in the program and a real missionary spirit was displayed.

exception was taken, having confined the attention of the jury to the dangerous condition of the road, as occasioned by the obstruction placed therein by direction of the supervisors and leaving out of view entirely its convenience. In the construction and repair of public roads, particularly in view of the increased rapidity of travel upon them, it is important for the supervisors to keep in mind convenience as well as safety in the construction and repair of these avenues of public travel." As the cost of failure to comply with the law in respect to safe and convenient highways must fall eventually on the farmers and other taxpayers of the townships, it is expected that a few more damage awards in accordance with this latest interpretation of the law by the Superior Court will tend to bring the "thank-ye-ma'm" into general disuse as a substitute for a properly arched roadway, which is the cheapest and best in the long run.
